Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention.
The following call is published in the Washington papers:

In pursuance of a resolution passed at a meeting of the "Soldiers' and Sailors' Union," held in the city of Washington, D. C., on Monday evening August 20, 1866, we invite all soldiers and sailors who have served in the U. S. army or navy during the late war for the suppression of the rebellion, and who believe that peace should be made on the basis of the principles of the Constitution, to meet at the Hotel Thompson, on Tuesday, September 25, 1866, at 10 o'clock a.m. We make our argument in the field.

If there is an exceptable phrase or expression in the terms of this call we would be glad to have the supporters of "My Policy" point it out, and yet they are engaged in getting up another Soldiers' Convention to be held at Cleveland in the interest of Johnson. The soldiers had very little to do with it. It was the concoction of a body of astute political wire-pullers, who want the help of the soldiers to bolster up the late Philadelphia Convention. The Cleveland call is virtually an invitation to the soldiers of the country to join in a movement having for its object the surrender of the very principles for which they have fought so long and endured so much, to the conquered traitors who lately lay in supine attitude at their feet. The men who are at the head of this movement are fully conscious that they do not represent the sentiments of the great mass of the "boys in blue," or of the good and true men who fed them on victory. This was clearly evinced in the fact that they dared not issue a call for a general soldiers' convention to discuss the political questions of the day, well knowing that in such a convention they and the principles they represent would not have the sympathy of a chance.

The soldiers who will meet at Pittsburgh will be altogether another sort than those at Cleveland. The former will be the men who have not yet forgotten the principles for which they fought. They hate treason with the same hatred that prompted them to enlist for its overthrow. They love the dear old flag with the same ardor that prompted them to offer their lives in its defense. They are the men who, having lived on hard-tack in the field, do not now require to be bread-and-buttered at the Government expense.

They know that the soldiers who now receive officer at the hands of President Johnson do so, not because they once served the country, but because they now serve the President. The soldiers who will meet at Pittsburgh will be a large and important meeting. The official call is in the eight part, and will be very widely and promptly responded to by the "boys in blue." Among the orators who will speak are such men as Banks, Butler and Burnside from the East; Logan and Orlesky, of Illinois; McNeil and Fletcher, of Missouri; Gifford, Cox, Schenck, Willrich, and many others from the West. See the call and its endorsement on our first page.

Our readers can easily determine in which of the two Soldiers' Conventions the Soldiers and Sailors' Club of Titusville will be represented.

The Democratic Organ and its Candidate.

The Copper-johnson Mountain, which had been so long in labor at the Bills Opera Wigwam, and which experienced so many painful throes in view of the uncertain character of its issue, was on Saturday evening last, under the supervision of its ten political midwives, safely delivered of a newspaper infant—the "Journal"—and all hands are "well nigh to be expected."

In a mechanical point of view the Journal does not discredit its propositors. In a political sense it promises to fulfill every Copperhead expectation, of which fact the following extract from its voluntary furnishes a sufficient guarantee:

"A high-toned statesman must be elected Governor of the State next October. Related Hester Clymer is the man whom the sovereigns of the old Keystone State will delight to honor."

When the sorely-peopled people of Pennsylvania shall decide to blot out their glorious war record, they may "delight to honor" an ardent sympathizer with treason and its most perfidious defender.

It was this Hester Clymer who voted in the Senate against defending his native State at the outbreak of the Rebellion.

It was this Hester Clymer who also voted to withhold the right of suffrage from Pennsylvania soldiers in the field.

It was this Hester Clymer who voted against increasing the pay of Pennsylvania soldiers who were at that time defending his own hearthstone against rebel invasion.

It was this Hester Clymer who refused to allow Union soldiers to draw water from his well, as they marched to defend the border.

It was this Hester Clymer who cast his vote in favor of allowing deserters to vote also.

It was this Hester Clymer who opposed a vote of thanks to Gen. Grant, his officers and men, for services rendered to the country.

It was this Hester Clymer who denounced all Union men as "deserters miscreants."

And it was this Hester Clymer who voted to exclude Andrew Johnson from the Senate chamber, when he decried to denounce treason and traitors; and who now honors him because he denounces Union men and apologizes for traitors.

As an evidence that the public service of this high-toned statesman are duly appreciated by rebels themselves, we quote the Wilmington (N. C.) Dispatch, which endorses his claims to office, and says no less interest, in his success than the Evening Journal. Says this North Carolina rebel sheet:

"We gather from the record that Mr. Clymer, from the day that the Confederates crossed the Greenbrier into the smiling Cumberland Valley, has been a ardent sympathizer with the rebels, and an ardent sympathizer with the Confederacy."

In other words, he became a so-called Copperhead, as in fact he had always been before, and refused to render aid in resisting the invasion. Mr. Clymer is also now ready to take these traitors by the hand, and to assist them to assert their privileges under the Government.

"Now, in our humble opinion, all these things are the very best indications that could be given us that Mr. Clymer deserves to be Governor of Pennsylvania."

Exactly so. Now will anybody point out to us the distinction between citizens of Pennsylvania who "delight to honor" such a candidate, and unrepentant rebels of North Carolina who glory in his shameful record as "the very best indication that he deserves to be Governor of Pennsylvania?"

Morris, Simmons & Withey have a fine stock of thoroughly ripened sweet potatoes, and also keep on hand all vegetables of the season, at their store, corner of Pine and Martin streets.

GREAT FIRE AT DENNIS RUN.

Twenty-five Wells and Five Thousand Barrels of Oil Destroyed—Loss Over $100,000.

TITUSVILLE, September 1, 1866.

I have to communicate to you the news of the most extensive and disastrous fire that ever occurred in this region. It originated at the Rising Sun well, about 4 o'clock this morning, on the tract belonging to the New York and Allegheny Oil Company, and quickly communicated to all the adjacent wells on the same property, resulting in the destruction of twenty-five wells, together with three tanks, engine houses and derricks. Between 4,000 and 5,000 barrels of oil were destroyed and the loss is considerably over $100,000.

The precise cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been occasioned by a remarkably heavy fog which prevented the gas from rising, and finally caused an ignition from the furnace of the Rising Sun.

Likewise fires of a similar nature its spread was instantaneous. Burning tanks of oil sent their streams of liquid fire in every direction, enveloping everything of a combustible nature in the general conflagration.

It was a grand yet frightful spectacle. That no person was seriously injured in a matter of general surprise, so sudden and sweeping was the conflagration. The enterprising publisher of the Chronicle has issued an "extra," giving the list of the property destroyed, as follows:

Rising Sun Engine house, derrick, tanks, etc., $100.

Sixty tanks burned; otherwise slightly damaged.

Kearny. Everything destroyed.

Ondondaga 1st and 2d. Everything destroyed.

Keep. Everything destroyed.

Starow No. 1. Everything destroyed.

Premium. Everything destroyed.

Puroleum, 1st and 2d. Everything destroyed.

Clark. Everything destroyed.

McDowell. Tank burned.

The above are all on the lands of the New York & Allegheny Oil Company, and comprise very well situated on the bottom lands of their tract; the following are on the lands of the Tidewater & Warren Oil Company, and likewise includes all their wells not on the side-hills.

Henderson. Nothing saved.

Gentecno. Engine house, tools, turned.

Mosher. Tanks saved—nothing else.

Bigelow. Derrick and tanks burned; engine house burned.

Buckley. Tanks burned.

Babcock. All saved except the barreling plant.

McKee, No. 2. Everything destroyed.

Bethelton. Saved.

Keystone. Saved.

Clinton. Engine house, tanks, etc., destroyed; derrick, stand, tools, turned.

Barker. Nothing saved.

Empire State. Saved.

McKee, No. 1. Saved.

Shaw. Saved.

Cincinnati. Saved.

Nell. Saved.

The engine house at this well too blew, and holes were burned through it in several places; the engineer removed the safety-valve, and letting out the steam, closed the doors and left; the steam was too much for the fire, and the fire went out.

Combs—Saved.

In addition to the above, the New York & Allegheny Company lost a large receiving tank containing about six hundred barrels of oil, and several smaller tanks containing about seven hundred barrels.

The total loss, as near as can now be estimated, is not less than one hundred thousand dollars. It is useless to argue how it might have been prevented, unless those interested profit by it, and take measures to prevent a repetition. It is patent to every one that when the oil was kept deep and free from brush and other obstructions, the wells by generally escaped damage. Would it not be a cheap insurance to dredge out Dennis Run, say four feet deep?

We have no time for details or names further than to say that the oil men are not disheartened, but prove themselves equal to the emergency. The fire was subdued at eight o'clock, and before nine contracts were made to replace derricks, engines, etc., and in some instances the parties commenced repairs. Such a spirit cannot be equaled.

No blame attaches to my person for the disaster. It was unforeseen and in all probability unavoidable. We have read in your Herald too frequently of the ravages of the "fire head" on Oil Creek not to have dreaded its visitation. Having at last had so serious a manifesto of his power, we trust it will not soon be repeated.

DENXIS.

Geary Club at Riccville—Republicans Wide Awake.

TITUSVILLE, September 1, 1866.

Editor's Morning Herald.

On Thursday evening last a preliminary organization of a Republican Club was effected at Crittenden Hall.

Adjourned to meet on Thursday evening next.

Push on the column. Let us have Republican Clubs in every township of Eastern Crawford.

FIELD TO BAIL.—At Harrisburg, in the somewhat celebrated case of Commonwealth vs. Culver, his Honor Judge Pearson held the parties for their appearance at the next term in the following amounts: Charles V. Culver, $4,000; Lucien H. Culver, $2,000; John Walker, $2,000; A. Carlisle, $12,000, in case he is arrested.

The lawyers of Venango county must have giddy budgets to swing to. At the last setting of the court, on the 8th of August we organized a Club which now embraces about one hundred members. The officers are Moses Adams, President; M. S. Davenport, Recording Secretary; Capt. Fred. S. Peck, Corresponding Secretary. Our regular meetings are held every Wednesday evening. On the 22d ult. addresses were made by Prof. L. G. Beach and O. A. Hotchkiss. Both of these gentlemen were strong supporters of Mr. Pettis, but they accept the nomination of Mr. Finey as conclusive, and sustain him.
